

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NAWC NOW ON THE WORLD WIDE WEB

Lisle, IL - February 1, 2003 - Consumers and Healthcare professionals can now find the National Alliance of Wound Care, NAWC, in cyberspace. After a long wait, the new NAWC website has finally been launched. The NAWC can be found at www.nawccb.org.

The National Alliance of Wound Care, is a non-profit organization that offers a wound care specialty certification and credentialing program. The specialty wound care certification is available to nurses, doctors, and therapists who are interested in demonstrating proficiency and expertise in caring for patients with wound and skin problems.

The new NAWC website will provide consumers and healthcare professionals information regarding the specialty of wound care, emerging trends, and a national directory of Wound Care Certified practitioners.
