NAWC APPROVES WCEI TRAINING PROGRAM

Lisle, IL - December 27, 2002 - The National Alliance of Wound Care announced today that they have approved and awarded accreditation to the Wound Care Education Institute, WCEI, as an accredited training provider for the NAWC Wound Care Certification. The Wound Care Education Institute is based out of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin with offices in Stevensville, MI and Aurora, IL. WCEI offers a comprehensive one week skin and wound care management training course in various locations around the U.S.

The program approval will now enable WCEI to offer the NAWC wound care certification examination on site at training course locations. WCEI will be the only company to offer the NAWC certification examination on location.
