2015 WCC® Outstanding Achievement Award Winners Recognized at Wild on Wounds (WOW) Annual Conference.

St. Joseph, MI September 19, 2011- The National Alliance of Wound Care and Ostomy® (NAWCO®), the country's largest wound care credentialing organization and its Board of Directors proudly announce the winners of the 9th annual WCC® Outstanding Achievement Awards. The winners were recognized during a special presentation of the closing general session, appropriately called "Paying It FORWARD", at the Wild on Wounds (WOW) Annual Conference in Las Vegas September 5, 2015. These prestigious awards are given each year to three deserving Wound Care Certified (WCC) clinicians from across the country.

"The accomplishments of each winner clearly illustrate their leadership and knowledge of wound care. These winners demonstrate the same passion shared by the over 19,000 Wound Care Certified WCCs across the United States. "In addition to congratulating our winners, we also acknowledge and thank everyone who submitted nominations for this year's awards," said Debbie Dvorachek, President of the NAWCO Board of Directors.

The 2015 WCC Outstanding Achievement Award winners are as follows:

OUTSTANDING RESEARCH IN WOUND CARE

Candice Curtin, RN, BSN, WCC, DWC, OMS

OUTSTANDING WORK IN DIABETIC WOUNDS

Margarita Joni Rose Villar, RN, BSN, WCC

OUTSTANDING WCC® OF THE YEAR

Marissa Richardson, RN, CRRN, WCC

NAWCO was a proud sponsor of the Wild on Wound (WOW) annual conference where over 1100 clinicians, students and industry experts gathered in early September to learn, share and network during this record setting conference.
